

USING YOUR DAILY PLANNER BOOK

This removable daily planner gives you a master list of all of the education and networking sessions we're offering this year at COLLABORATE 08, which are listed in full detail in the Education tab of your onsite program. Sessions are organized by day and time, and color-coded according to the users group that is presenting the session. Each entry lists room, session number, session title, product line, education track and primary speaker.

What's not listed in this grid book? Some individual users group meetings and events not considered to be part of the conference's education schedule. In addition, general sessions and other networking events are not listed. Please refer to the master schedule at a glance in the general section of your main program for a complete schedule of events, supplemented by information in each group's section of the program.

EDUCATION OPPORTUNITIES ON SATURDAY AND SUNDAY

Education listed in this Daily Planner is for Monday through Thursday of this week. If you're coming to Denver early, there are several additional education opportunities available to you on both Saturday and Sunday, including attendee orientations, pre-conference training classes, and some SIG meetings and evening events. For a full schedule of everything available to you, check the Saturday and Sunday agenda pages in the general information section of this guide, as well as the IOUG, OAUG or Quest sections, depending on who's hosting the event. Many of our early conference opportunities require additional fees and/or signing up in advance, so please check with an IOUG, OAUG or Quest staff member or visit our information booth for more information.

Sessions in this book are organized by date/time and then by room number. Sessions in the main program are organized by date/time and by session number for cross-referencing.
