OAUG News Release

Oracle Applications Users Group Board Elects Margaret Wright as President; Selects 2013 Executive Committee

ATLANTA – Feb. 4, 2013 - The Oracle Applications Users Group (OAUG), the world's largest user knowledgebase for Oracle Applications users, announced its board of directors has elected Margaret Wright as its 2013 president and elected the members of the organization's executive committee.

Wright has been an active member of the OAUG since 2002, having served as a member of the OAUG board in 2007/2008 and again in 2010/2011. In addition to performing her board responsibilities during that time, she served as the OAUG's governance committee chair and as the board secretary. Wright also served as executive vice president of the OAUG in 2012. She brings with her more than 30 years of experience in the information technology field, with a record of accomplishment in forging strategy and developing clear visions, managing software development projects and managing strategic alliances with software vendors.

"As the president of the OAUG in 2013, I am committed to growing the organization, strengthening its membership services and providing sound leadership to ensure the organization's reputation as the world's largest user knowledgebase for Oracle Applications users," said Wright. "The OAUG will continue to focus on our core member benefits in 2013, helping our members increase productivity and return on investment through educational programs, professional networking opportunities, and meaningful interaction and influence with Oracle."
