Oracle Applications Users Group Announces Educational Series 2013

- WebEx sessions to provide members free access to new interactive OAUG eLearning programs focusing on Oracle E-Business Suite and EPM/BI -

ATLANTA – Feb. 14, 2013 - The Oracle Applications Users Group \(OAUG\), the world's largest user knowledgebase for Oracle Applications users, announces two virtual OAUG eLearning series to kick off 2013 with the "Oracle EBS A to Z: A Deep Dive Educational Series," Feb. 18-22, and the "Best of OAUG Connection Point® - EPM/BI," Feb. 25-March 1.

The Oracle EBS A to Z: A Deep Dive Educational Series hones in on a number of relevant and timely Oracle E-Business Suite topics. OAUG members are invited to ask questions and discuss their concerns directly with Oracle developers and executives during this five-day interactive series. Each day highlights new topics, including Oracle Projects, Oracle E-Business Suite Human Capital Management, Oracle E-Business Suite Technology Certification Primer and Roadmap, Oracle E-Business Suite integration best practices, Oracle E-Business Suite Extensions for Oracle Endeca Information Discovery, Oracle E-Business Suite maintenance, Oracle Advanced Procurement and security.

The Best of OAUG Connection Point – EPM/BI features the most popular content from last year's conference. Five days of sessions address all aspects of Oracle Business Intelligence and Analytics, including OBIEE, Oracle Analytic Applications, Oracle Exalytics and Oracle Endeca. The Oracle Hyperion courses cover planning, Oracle Hyperion Financial Management, Oracle Essbase and infrastructure.

"The 2013 OAUG Educational Series is a prime example of the types of benefits our members value because it offers highly focused information dealing with the most common issues they face," said Margaret Wright, president of the OAUG. "In addition, participants have direct access to experts from the users community as well as experts from Oracle.
